A fire broke out in the Vassar Saturday evening. The excitement in Roma was very great and the city officials entered St. Peter's for the first time since the fall of the temporal power of the papacy. Pope Pius spent some time in the scene of the blaze and aided in directing the work of extinguishing the fire. The damage is heavy, but no lives were lost.

In his annual report Edmund Richards, of the General Law Office, says there is a large increase in fraudulent entries. Ten thousand entries have been suspended in California, Oregon and Washington, and fifteen speculators are at work in that field. Secretary Hitchcock, of the Interior Department, in a statement regarding these fraudulent entries, says there is no truth in the report that Senators or Congressmen are involved.

Funeral services over the body of Mrs. Emma Booth-Tucker were held yesterday afternoon in Carnegie Hall, New York. Commander Booth-Tucker and others delivered addresses and a telegram from Gen. William Booth was read. Herbert Booth, of the volunteers, was present and twice asked permission of Commander Booth-Tucker to speak, but it was each time refused.

The Chinese Government is greatly disturbed over the reoccupation of Mukden by the Russian forces, and is appealing to friendly foreign legations for aid and advice. According to a statement at Pekin the Chinese officials at Mukden were ejected while their Foreign Office was negotiating the subject with Paul Lescar, the Russian Minister.

The report of the receiver of the Shipbuilding Trust was made public yesterday. It makes substantial changes of classification, swindling and fraud in the organization of the company and recommends that suit be brought against Charles M. Schwab and the promoters. The whole affair is described as "wholesale plunder."

Both parties will hold caucuses in Washington Saturday. Joseph G. Cannon will be nominated by the Republicans for Speaker of the House. John S. Williams, of Mississippi, will no doubt receive the complimentary nomination of the Democrats for Speaker.

Appellate Judge Hunter E. St. Louis handed down a decision Monday settling the injunction restraining the courts of the counties in the Eleventh congressional district from putting the name of Dr. W. Godfrey Hunter on the ballot as the Republican nominee for Congress. He holds that the courts have no jurisdiction to decide the controversy, that power being vested in the government authority of the party. He further holds that the name of the nominee selected by the governing committee could be placed under the party emblem at any time, provided the ballots could be prepared in time for the election. The decision is a victory for Dr. Hunter.

The Republican State Central Committee, by a vote of eight to five, decided that J. Sherman Cooper is not the governing authority of the party in the Eleventh district. This action was a decided victory for Dr. W. Godfrey Hunter. An effort to overturn the case on its merits was voted down. The result of the committee meeting was a decided victory for Dr. Hunter over Mr. Edwards.

One of the most remarkable cases of a cold, deep-seated on the lungs, causing pneumonia, is that of Mr. Gerrit E. Fonor, Marion, Ind., who was entirely cured by the use of One Minute Cough Cure. She says: "The coughing and straining so weakened me that I ran down in weight from 115 to 92 pounds. I tried a number of remedies to no avail until I used One Minute Cough Cure. THE FORESTRY EXHIBIT

From Kentucky Will Occupy a Most Prominent Place

AT THE ST. LOUIS EXPOSITION

Assigned Space Near Center of Forestry Building and on Two of the Main Aisles—Chairman Strick is issuing Instructions for Preparation of Samples of Logs, Boards, Etc. For the Exhibit.

On two of the main aisles and almost in the center of the Forestry and Fish and Game Building at the World's Fair in St. Louis next year will stand Kentucky's display of her wonderful forest resources and lumber interests. This space has just been assigned to the Kentucky Exhibit Association by Mr. Tarleton L. Beau, chief of the Department of Forestry of the Exposition. As is readily seen, the forestry display from this Commonwealth will occupy an enviable position, and it behoves those interested to make the display one worthy the space given it. To this end Mr. A. N. Strick, Chairman of the Forestry Exhibit Committee of the Exhibit Association, and Mr. William B. Hartman, Filed Representative, are laying their plans.

Chairman Strick has just issued a circular, giving instructions to the logging camps, planing mills and forestry industries of the State, as to how they can best assist him in making the display a success. Logs cut eight feet in length are to be shown. This length has been decided on so the samples will be easily handled.

Mr. Hartman, Filed Representative:

cure for indigestion and its attendant affection, nervous debility. For the six months that I was on the platform through the recent campaign I used Peru regularly, and although I spoke two and three times each day my voice never failed me. I know that Peru is a reliable cure for bronchial troubles."

HIGHEST PRICED EGGS.

Are Whoppers and Cost $10,000 a Dozen—From Unique Island's Fair Exhibit.

Eggs 18 inches in narrowest circumference and nearly two feet long, that sell in the market at the rate of $10,000 per dozen, will be on exhibition at the World's Fair at St. Louis in 1904. These eggs belong to the United States government, and they are now in the custody of the oologist at the National Museum in Washington.

The latest addition to the government's fossil specimens in the egg line comes from the Island of Madagascar, in the Indian ocean, and is said to be the largest egg ever discovered. It was bought by an American scientist in

SAMUEL P. JONES,
Chairman Manufacturers' Committee, Kentucky Exhibit Association.

Paris and was forwarded to Washington. The government oologist said that the egg was that of the Aepyornis titan, a bird of the quaternary epoch, more gigantic even than the Aepyornis maximus. The monster egg was excavated on the Island of Madagascar, where it had lain for thousands of years. The huge shell, an inch thick, and weighing many pounds, is smooth and white and has probably not changed in general appearance since it was laid, in prehistoric times.

When this egg is shown at the World's Fair it will be placed beside the eggs of the humming bird, the ostrich and the domestic fowl for comparison.

Scientists claim that Uncle Sam, when his representative bought this incomparable specimen in Paris for a trifle less than $2,000 francs, got an unusual bargain. Eggs even smaller than this have sold at the rate of $6,000 to $10,000 per dozen. The same scientist predicts that these ancient eggs will increase in value, and elate the price of the eggs of the great auk. Although this bird was a pug in comparison, and has been extinct less than 60 years—Audubon having seen one in 1844—its eggs are worth $2,000 each. There are about 80 known specimens of the great auk's eggs. The egg of the Aepyornis is believed by many writers to be that of the roo, mentioned in the Arabian Nights, and long thought to be fabulous.

Besides these monster eggs found in recent explorations on the Island of Madagascar enough bones of this great bird have been found to enable paleontologists to form a more definite conception than ever before of its size. A section of the tibio-tarsus nearly 100 centimeters long, a section of a manubrium 170 millimeters long, portions of the skull and other bones confirm scientists in their estimates that the Aepyornis towered above the dinosaurus. A skeleton of the latter in the National Museum shows that it was larger than the modern horse. That the Aepyornis maximus was still bigger, and that the Aepyornis titan, whose egg is the most amazing thing in zoology, was even more gigantic than its enormous kinsman, is proven by the late Madagascan excavations.

The eggs and the bones of this monstrous bird of the time of Sibaldi the Sailor will be a feature of the government's exhibit at the World's Fair.

Six Indians are believed to have been killed in the fight Saturday at Lightning Creek, Eastern Wyoming, in which Sheriff Miller and Deputy Fossenbury were killed. There is an unverified report of a second battle in which ten Indians were killed and eleven others captured.

BUSSEYVILLE.

Our Hallowe'en people did the riot act to the letter, and as a result Webb is nursing a broken face by trying the witch manner of circling through the air in ancient fashion, we are told.

Carl was hinged to a telephone pole while the moon beams played checkers on the back of his coat. Fairy and Ivory became imprisoned in the chicken pen for a space of time, and had to pay some ransom for their release.

Considerable advertising was done on a cheap scale and the old cow of pearls, being a nice roan, suddenly found herself in line "cherry red." Some chickens roosting places, a fine lot of patent hair oil was on the market and Henry is the patentee.

Russell C. Workman, one of our gallant young men, is now confined to his room with a severe wound in the leg as a result of an accidental discharge of an old pistol, which was not loaded, of course. The wound, though painful, is not necessarily dangerous.

Laura Webb, a victim of typhoid fever, is seriously ill, while Miss Eliza Burchett is slowly improving. Other sick folks are steadily improving.

George Pleck has sold his farm to Luther Pigg and will move to Louisa within a short time.

Rev. L. B. Hutchison, of Catlettsburg, was the guest of our Sunday school last Sunday, having attended the funeral rites of Mrs. Addie Webb, of Madison, Saturday evening.

Rev. Cheek filled his pulpit here last Sunday eve, the hour of service having been changed from Saturday night and Sunday morning to Sunday afternoon and Sunday night.

First Number of Lecture Course.

PLEASANT EVENT

Gov. Beckham's Visit to Louisa on Last Friday.

An audience that completely filled the Masonic Opera House listened with rapt attention to the reading given by Miss Ellen James last Friday evening. She rendered "Mrs. Wiggs of the Cabbage Patch," and a monologue entitled "The Coming Out of Miss Cumming."

Many of those present have heard some of the best readers and impersonators in the country, and all pronounced Miss James an artist in her line. Not only does she possess rare ability, but it is evident that she has been fortunate in having perfect training. The illustration so common among readers to overdo the characters and render them unnatural seems entirely wanting in her case. Indeed, the natural manner employed in all her work is the secret of its chief charm. The many characters of the famous Kentucky story of Mrs. Wiggs were faithfully portrayed, with all their broad humor, deep pathos, and vivid pictures, the plot of the story being told while carried along in a thoroughly engrossed manner.

The monologue following the principal number on the program was admirably rendered and furnished much amusement for the audience.

Miss James is quite young and this was her first appearance outside of her native State, Idaho. She has a promising future.

The lecture course committee, of which Prof. Bolster was the organizer, is much encouraged by the patronage with which the first number was favored and by the interest in which the performance was received. Another attraction will be announced soon and it is the intention to continue them throughout the season if sufficient interest is exhibited by the public.

Speaking of the marriage at Ironton last week of Walter Riley and Miss Clara Cooksey, mentioned on our last issue the Cathet-ting Press says:

"It was an elopement and a very secret one. Miss Cooksey being so young, was not allowed to 'keep company' with the opposite sex but—prevent this if you will!

There were no special objections to Mr. Riley, who was 34 years her senior, but the law was against everybody in general, no one in particular." Miss Cooksey's parents knew nothing whatever of the intended marriage, not even being aware that their daughter had more than a passing acquaintance with the young man, so Sunday afternoon she left home, presumably to go to church, however, she met Riley and the two went to Fallsburg where they remained over night with some friends.
Monday morning they took the O. & R. S. train and came to this city from whence they went to Ironton and were married. Returning here yesterday afternoon the young couple went up Sandy on the evening train, to receive either the blessing or scolding at the parental hearth.
Let us hope it will be the former,
and congratulations."

There has been a request from the National headquarters of the W. C. T. U. that all members of our Club meet and petition the Christian God for advancement of the temperance cause all over the world, and His special blessing on the National Convention which meets November 13th, at the 9th Street Baptist Church, Cincinnati, I., your President, call this Un-devotional service to be held on Thursday afternoon, Nov. 12th, at 2 o'clock, at the Baptist Church, asking God's blessing on the Union throughout the world. All Christians are specially invited.

JOSEPHINE HICE.

Affection has fallen heavily upon John W. Bradley, one of the most worthy citizens in our county.
Last June he became the victim of a severe type of dysentery, from which he has not yet recovered sufficiently to walk. Since then two of his sons and a daughter have been attacked by typhoid fever and two of these cases are now quite severe. Not only has the season and crop been lost to him, but the expense caused by illness has been heavy. We hope they may all speedily recover with the effort.

The Democrats were very anxious to have our popular Congressman James N. Kehoe, hero last Friday to make a speech, but he had previously accepted another engagement for that day. His speech was filled for quite awhile previous to the election, the demand for his services being very strong.

The friends of Mrs. Cora Abbott Robertson here at her home will no doubt be very much surprised to hear of her marriage to Mr.
John H. Robertson, which occurred in Washington, D. C., on Oct. 28th.
They are now quartered at the Hotel Manassas, at Manassas, Va.
Mrs. Robertson has been in Washington City since the death of her first husband, filling a position in the government printing office.
Mr. Robertson is a prosperous young Virginian. The wedding was a very quiet affair. The News extends its best wishes.

Death of Thos. M. Hazleton.

Our people were very much surprised and shocked Saturday morning by hearing of the death of Mr.
Thomas M. Hazleton, which occurred at 6 a.m., at the residence of his son, Mr. George L. Hazleton.

While his condition for a day or two previous had been considered serious it was not thought that the end was so near. For several months he had suffered from stomach trouble, which is said to have been cancer of the stomach.

Mr. Hazleton had celebrated his 70th birthday on the Monday previous to his death.

A number of guests were present at the dinner served in honor of the occasion. He came down staircase that day, but was not down after that.

The body was taken to Cincinnati Tuesday for burial, accompanied by the widow and Miss Laura, and Mr. and Mrs. G. L. Hazleton and daughter Miss Myra.
John Hazleton and Mrs. Vinion, John C. Burnett, J. A. and Claus Abbott, who among those who came home to vote last Tuesday.

P. H. Lear left Tuesday morning for Denver, Colo., where he will spend some time for the benefit of his health. From there he will go into New Mexico later in the season, where he expects to remain until spring.

Mr. Hazleton was a gentleman of refinement and exemplary life and habits. For more than a year he and his estimable wife have lived with their son. Previous to that, they were residents of Cincinnati, where they were highly esteemed members of a large circle of good people. During their residence here they have formed friendships and won the esteem of all with whom they have come in contact.

Deceased is survived by his wife, two daughters and two sons.
Geo. L. is connected with the U. S.
Engineer service on the Big Sandy River. John, the other son, is traveling auditor for the H. & R. railroad, with headquarters at Baltimore. In their deep sorrow these people have the sincere sympathy of the citizens of Louisa.

Bank at Blaine.

A State bank, with $15,000 capital, has been organized at Blaine, this county. It will be known as the bank of Blaine, and the Hon. H. H. Gambill, formerly a member of the Kentucky Legislature, was elected president, R. T. Berry vice president, and A. S. Conley, of Salyerville, cashier. A modern stone bank building will be erected and the bank will begin business January 1, 1904. I. C. Adair, of Forsythe, who is interested in a number of banks in Eastern Kentucky, assisted the home people in organizing this bank.

Grayson, Nov. 1.—Joseph Thomas Jr., of Wilson Creek, five miles east of this place, was fatally stabbed by Green Claywood, caused by a lawsuit.

The Pikeville National Bank, of Pikeville, Ky., has been authorized to begin business with a capital of $25,000. J. E. Yost is president, and Fon Rogers cashier.

Ashtabula, Ky., Nov. 2.—William Higgins, a roller at the steel mill, was stabbed and dangerously wounded in a street brawl tonight.
Several suspects are arrested, but just who is guilty is not known.

Ceredo is suffering from a raging epidemic of smallpox. Fifty cases and four deaths on last Wednesday are reported. Street cars are not allowed to stop there the adjacent towns have been quarantined against Ceredo.

Miss James, the big Congressman from western Kentucky, followed by a short speech in which he indicated no whitened things in his charitable way.

Eph. Lillard, Warden of the Frankfort penitentiary, was present and complied with the request to sing a few words of "Trouble in Ida Land," which he and Bob Franklin have rendered so often down in the central part of the State.

By this time the train was due to leave and the distinguished party got aboard and departed. The Governor shook hands with the great admiration which the crowd had for him. He then entered upon a talk of twenty-five minutes, throughout which he was given the closest attention. He is an easy, graceful, and pleasing speaker. His voice is full and musical and his well rounded sentences were well delivered. In the limited time at his disposal he could touch upon only a few of the issues, but he made many points that called forth applause from his hearers. He indulged in no abuse in his speech and made a very favorable impression.

Miss Mary Vinson, of Kellogg, W. Va., was married last week to Col. Donald Clark, of Dallas, Texas. He is said to be the richest young man in Texas.
The bride is the handsome young daughter of Col. S. S. Vinson.

T. S. Tinsley, of Clifton Christian Church, Louisville, began a series of meetings at the M. E. Church Monday evening of this week.
He is a very interesting speaker and everyone should hear him. Theme for tonight (Friday), "A reasonable Hell." Saturday night, "A spiritual Heaven."

A. W. Preston better known as Indy, a prominent merchant of Dickson, Wayne county, W. Va., was shot a few days ago by Lucas McGinnis, a neighbor. Preston's wound is said to be fatal. McGinnis is a traveling man well known throughout this territory.
He is a native of this county, and moved to West Virginia only a few years ago. It is said the shooting is the result of former trouble. Both men are married.
McGinnis left immediately after the shooting and had not been apprehended at last reports.

Great Gathering of Ky. Pastors.

In December last year, a Pastors' Sunday School Institute was held in Louisville, Ky., that attracted favorable comment all over America. About 500 pastors and prospective pastors were in attendance, and ten states were represented. This year, December 15-18, it is to be repeated on a much larger scale. Marion Lawrence, Int. Gen. Sec'y., Dr. H. Hamblin, Dr. H. W. Spillman, and Mr. W. C. Porce, four of the most noted leaders and Sunday School experts of America will be the conductors. Besides these, the Institute will be addressed by the presidents of the three Theological Seminaries of the State. Dr. S. H. Green of Washington, D. C., will deliver a course of lectures at the same time at the Baptist Seminary and these will be free to all. In addition to this, The International Educational Committee, one of the most important Sunday School Committees in America, will hold a meeting here at that time, and we will also hear from these. This brings together, ten of our most noted Sunday School workers. Surely no pastor can afford not to come. But we want it clearly understood, that while the Institute is especially for pastors, all Sunday School workers are invited and expected.

A rate of one farce for the round trip has been asked for. Pastors will be entertained free, and we are recommending to Sunday schools that they send their pastor and pay his way. They could not possibly make a better investment.

Program and full particulars may be obtained by writing the General Secretary, E. A. Fox, Room 19, Louisville Trust Bldg., Louisville, Kentucky.

MILLIONAIRE'S POOR STOMACH.

The worn-out stomach of the overfed millionaire is often paraded to the public pride as a horrible example of the evils attendant on the possession of great wealth. But millionaires are not the only ones who are afflicted with bad stomachs. The proportion is far greater among day laborers. Dyspepsia and indigestion are rampant among those people, and they suffer far worse torture than the millionaire unless they avail themselves of a standard medicine like Green's August Flower, which has been a favorite household remedy for all stomach trouble for over thirty-five years. August Flower relieves the torpid liver, thus creating appetite and insuring perfect digestion. It tones and vitalizes the entire system and makes life worth living, no matter what your station. CLIMATIC CURES.

The influence of climatic conditions in the cure of consumption is very much overdone. The poor patient and the rich patient, too, can do much better at home by proper attention to food, digestion, and a regular use of German Syrup. Free expectation in the morning is made certain by German Syrup, so is a good night's rest and the absence of that weakening cough and debilitant night sweat. Restless nights and the exhaustion due to coughing, the greatest danger and threat of the consumptive, can be prevented or stopped by taking German Syrup liberally and regularly. Should he be able to go to a warmer climate, you will find that of the hundreds of consumptives there, the few who are benefited and regain strength are those who use German Syrup. Trial bottles, 25¢; regular size, 75¢.

Six Indians are believed to have been killed in the fight Saturday at Lightning Creek, Eastern Wyoming, in which Sheriff Miller and Deputy Fossenbury were killed. There is an unverified report of a second battle in which ten Indians were killed and eleven others captured.

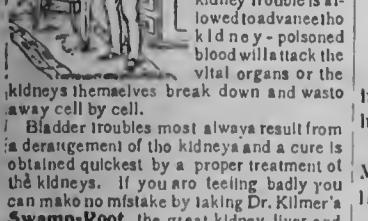

The Cause of Many Sudden Deaths.

There is a disease prevailing in this country most dangerous because so deadly. Many sudden deaths are caused by it—heart disease, pneumonia, heart trouble, etc. People are often the victims of kidney disease, if kidney trouble is allowed to advance the kidney is poisoned blood will attack the vital organs and cause the body to break down and waste away till death.

Bladder troubles most always result in a derangement of the kidneys and a cure is obtained quickest by a proper treatment of the kidney. If you are feeling badly you can make no mistake by taking Dr. Kilmer's Swamp Root—the great kidney, liver and bladder remedy.

It is most easily to hold urine and scalding pain is lessened and overcome, but unpleasant necessity of being compelled to go often during the day, and to get up many times during the night. The mild and the extraordinary effect of Swamp Root is soon realized. It stands the highest for its wonderful cures of the most distressing cases.

Swamp Root is pleased to take and sold by all dealers in one cent and one dollar each bottle. You may have a sample bottle sent free by mail. Address Dr. Kilmer & Co., Binghamton, N.Y. When writing mention sending this generous offer in this paper.

Preventing Consumption.

In Article No. 5 of the Ohio Society for the Prevention of Tuberculosis, Dr. C. A. Probst tells in a general way of the treatment of the disease. The person affected should place himself in the hands of a trusted medical adviser, he says, and it is of the utmost importance that the treatment should begin at the earliest recognizable stage. He adds:

"Consumption may begin in an insidious manner; a slight cough, loss of appetite, a little weakness and perhaps loss of weight. Such symptoms by no means always indicate tuberculosis, and may be due to other causes. But valuable time should not be lost in waiting for marked signs of the disease."

Once the disease is discovered, he says, there are three courses of treatment to select from—to seek another climate, to enter a sanatorium, or to carry out the fresh-air treatment at home.

Continuing, Dr. Probst says: "Certain climatic conditions are doubtless greatly favorable for the cure of tuberculosis. There is much less in climate, however, than was formerly supposed. For the most part it is simply a question of pure air; and pure air in Ohio is just as pure as the air in any other place."

About the worst thing a consumptive can do is to leave home without medical advice, to wander about from one health resort to another, committing a thousand improprieties that completely annul any good that might have come from change of climate. One thing is to be said against change of climate. A person is usually obliged to remain in the climate in which he is cured."

The advantage of the sauna treatment, it is stated, lies in the excellent sanitary conditions and the daily routine, relieving the patient of all worry.

In talking of the home care of the disease, Dr. Probst says: "It should be clearly understood that there is no drug cure for consumption. It is the natural forces of the body that destroy or imprison the germs of tuberculosis and heal the lungs."

"Nature tries to cure diseased lungs, and the wise physician aids her by fresh air, an abundance of nourishing food and a proper regulation of rest and exercise.

The home treatment consists first in giving the patient, day and night, pure, fresh air. This can be found only out-of-doors and in rooms that can be thoroughly ventilated. The air of the best ventilated room never equals in purity the air out-of-doors. There need be no fear of catching cold. With a few weeks of hardening process there are but few patients who cannot be out of doors in all kinds of weather.

The next essential is as much nourishing food as can possibly be taken without causing indigestion. Consumptives usually have poor appetites, but they can nearly always digest and assimilate more food than they want. Milk and raw eggs between meals are usually beneficial.

A proper regulation of rest and exercise is equal in importance to fresh air or food, but is the most difficult to control. Usually consumptives want to take too much exercise. It is the regulation of rest and exercise that medical advice is most needed.

No one should expect to be cured of consumption in a short time. It requires usually about six months' stay in a sanitarium for the disease to be arrested. This does not always mean that the disease is cured. This will take a year or more; and the consumptive must ever after strictly observe hygienic rules of living or he will invite a return of the disease."

Where a room has been occupied by a consumptive, Dr. Probst says it should be given a thorough cleaning with soap and hot water and the floors sponged with a bright of six feet, window ledges, etc., should be wiped with cloths with corrosive sublimate, one drachm to a gallon of water. It should then be aired three or four days. As an additional precaution it could be fumigated with formaldehyde or sulphur. The Board of Health may be called upon to do this under the law.

There is no cough medicine so popular as Foley's Honey and Tar. It contains no opiates or poisons and never fails to cure. Sold by Louisa Drug Co.

OUR NEIGHBORS.

The C. & G. depot at South Portland was burned Monday night, together with the freight house and several thousand dollars worth of freight.

Prof. B. Paul Anderson, of Lexington State College, has been appointed by the United States Government as expert in charge of the exhibits in shop practice, etc., at the World's Fair at St. Louis.

Mrs. Floyd Anderson and her little daughter, Nelle, 3, died within five minutes of each other in Quincy, Ky., today as the result of burns. The mother was attracted by flames and found the child lying face downward enveloped in flames. In trying to save her, she set fire to herself.

Millard Atkins, who lives on Brush creek, in Wayne county, W. Va., was probably fatally injured Saturday afternoon by being struck on the head with a club by Stewart Price, a neighbor boy. Atkins was walking home with a couple of young ladies and Price being jealous, walked up behind his rival and dealt him a stinging blow which felled him to the ground with a crushed skull. Price immediately left the neighborhood and left his accounts had not been captured.—Ex.

At the trial, opposite Greenup, reside three married women, aged eighty, eighty-two and eighty-four. They own a small farm of forty acres and were born and reared thereon. For the past sixty years there has never been a man connected with the house or farm in the city of Huntington and five in the country. He was originally given work in Kentucky, but on account of the health of his wife he couldn't leave home. By the present arrangement he will be enabled to spend all the time at home when not employed on the circuit.

Rev. J. D. Garrett, of the M. E. Church, South, has been assigned to the Huntington Circuit. His work will include one appointment in the city of Huntington and five in the country. He was originally given work in Kentucky, but on account of the health of his wife he couldn't leave home. By the present arrangement he will be enabled to spend all the time at home when not employed on the circuit.

Rev. D. H. Reid, former pastor of the M. E. Church, South, has been appointed to Fairview Station, in Marion county. The work is in the heart of the rich, oil fields, has a large and growing congregation, modern church and parsonage, for which is furnished free gas for lighting and heating. They have endeared themselves to all our people both in their church and out who will wish them "God speed" in their new field of labor.—The State Gazette.

From an interview in the Cincinnati Enquirer with Hon. Walter Harkins, of Prestonburg, we take the following:

Judge Harkins says there is no county in Kentucky being so rapidly developed as Floyd County. Railroads are being extended through the county and now coal mines are being developed in every section. A number of oil wells have been shot there, and I understand the oil found in Floyd county compares favorably with any ever produced in the Pennsylvania fields. The Standard Oil Company has become interested in the work, and is shipping a great deal of material there to get oil away."

Suspicion pointed to the fact that these young men were the guilty parties, as both had been seen in that community with Winchesters on the day of the murder, and the unfortunate peddler had a bullet hole through the back of the head, and his brains had been beaten out with a barrel of a gun. The peddler had quite a sum of money and this was taken as well as all of his wares which were of value. "Devil!" Anse and his posse went into Kentucky and his posse went into Tennessee.
